10:51 AM Karen: Good morning! What are you doing today?
me: bunch of stuff, seems might go into office but not sure yet finishing up (maybe) these two more important docs - book and film 10:52 AM just got deadline and specs for Deep Ellum piece
Karen: i thought your dad went to arkansas?
me: he did
I don't really work for Dad
Karen: well today is saturday -- who is there on weekends?
me: is today Saturday?
Karen: Yes!
me: nevermind, then
Karen: hahaha!
me: just all the other stuff
10:53 AM I don't keep up with these things that would explain why I was invited to a party last night
if you could run by with some cigs and Gatorade and maybe some of those juice drinks for the weekend, that would be great 10:54 AM Karen: What kind of juice drinks?
10:56 AM me: those Odwalla thing they have at 7-11 and everywhere else
Naked is a similar brand 10:57 AM Karen: why, did you do drugs?
me: are you now associating juice, gatorade, and cigarettes with drugs?
no
Karen: that Odwalla juice I am.
10:58 AM me: you're thinking of grapefruit juice
Karen: No, you asked for that Odwalla after you'd had the big costly evening of heroin.
me: okay, I did indeed do so I also went over to your house 10:59 AM and probably ate things there that I don't have at home usually anyway, no, I didn't do drugs
I want real juice products because I've been working out at gem Karen: gem?
me: gym, rather 11:00 AM less questions, more juice, pleasee 11:01 AM Karen: also it is Vicodin, not vicatin. I'm afraid you really have done permanent damage to your brain.

me: seriously?
Karen: Yes.
me: I think it's more likely 11:02 AM that because I happened to misspell a word associated with drugs once that you've unconsciously made that association and now deployed it without good reason 11:03 AM also, doing heroin is not associated with brain damage
Karen: OK, yeah! I think it's probably been a good thing for you!
I will bring you juice!
me: Okay, it's been a great start to the day 11:04 AM I know better than to ask for fucking juice now
Karen: Allrighty then, I will run to the store, just call me if you think of anything else you want/need.
I am coming with juice and cigarettes in about 30 minutes.
Love you.
me: love you too, thanks
just, seriously
11:05 AM when we talk in the mornings
I and ask you to drop off something like juice which I appreciate you doing nevermind 11:06 AM Karen: We're even then! My nights lately have been spent tossing and turning, worrying about you, instead of sleeping.
me: maybe you have brain damage
anyway, see you soon
